

NOT SO SHORT ABOUT MYSELF

Currently, I am focusing on integrating the creative digital process into a large organization. I have been experimenting with various design methods and approaches. I believe this makes me a fluid learner in a fast-pacing and creative industry. Besides my flexibility, I always stay true and passionate about what I do, that is to ensure the final design solutions are both aesthetically appealing and highly implementable from the moment the idea is conceived.

As both a creative rooted and digitalborn mind, my digital competencies reach from concept and idea development to the end implementation. To stay current and relevant I thrive to navigate through the latest international design trends. In the heart, It is both satisfying and comfortable to share my success and fail with my colleagues. I fundamentally believe that teamwork and a collective effort is what gives us an advantage in a competitive world.
